The Learning Force Is Strong at Training 2023

In the galaxy of sun-drenched Orlando, Learning and Development (L&D) professionals will gather to hone their training skills, collaborate on best practices, and bring their newfound knowledge back to their organizations.

Join us February 13-15 at Disney’s Coronado Springs Resort, where you will experience:

- A conference kickoff and reception led by international creativity catalyst Jimbo Clark that will literally help you find out-of-the-box solutions.
- 100+ breakout sessions and clinics led by training Jedis.
- The wizardry of virtual meetings guru John Chen, who brings his unique broadcast studio exclusively to the Training 2023 Expo and demonstrates how to leverage multiple screens, best practices for virtual involvement, and lots more to produce super-engaging virtual meetings.
- Original keynotes featuring Lakota activist, filmmaker, and powerful storyteller Sarah Eagle Heart, who recently co-authored Warrior-Princesses Strike Back; former Pixar and The Simpsons storyteller/animator Matthew Luhn; and autism activist and scientist Dr. Temple Grandin, who demonstrates the power of “thinking in pictures.”
- Dine Around meet-ups with training experts at local cantinas.

Plus, you can strategize with high-level L&D professionals at the co-located Learning Leaders Summit and master new skills at pre-conference certificate programs.

Whatever path you choose at the conference, be sure to follow Yoda’s sage advice: “Always pass on what you have learned.”

SARAH EAGLE HEART
Changing the Narrative

A member of the Oglala Lakota Nation, Sarah Eagle Heart grew up on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation in South Dakota, where she learned Native American storytelling traditions. Today, she wields her powerful narrative skills as an activist, philanthropic leader, writer, and Emmy Award-winning consultant film producer – sharing her traditional cultural knowledge to increase diversity and inclusion, build strong networks, and fight for social justice for Indigenous People. She also is the co-CEO of Return to the Heart Foundation, which focuses on resourcing innovative Indigenous women-led initiatives in the ecosystems of climate justice, civic engagement, and regenerative development.

MATTHEW LUHN
Connecting Through Stories

Drawing on his 20-plus years of experience as a former animator for The Simpsons (the youngest animator to work on the TV series at age 19) and former storyteller for Pixar, Matthew Luhn works with Fortune 500 companies, entrepreneurs, and other professionals to craft and tell stories that bridge the gap between business and heart. The author of The Best Story Wins provides practical strategies that teach and inspire people and teams to connect more effectively on an emotional level through compelling stories that engage us in experiences while learning lessons and defining personal and organizational values.

TEMPLE GRANDIN
Embracing All Kinds of Minds

Temple Grandin did not speak until she was three-and-a-half years old. Displaying all the signs of autism, she went through countless hours of therapy to learn to speak. Mentored by her high school science teacher and her aunt, she pursued a career as a scientist, becoming a professor of animal science at Colorado State University. Today, half of the cattle in the U.S. are handled in humane facilities she designed. The author of books such as The Way I See It and The Autistic Brain, she demonstrates the power of “thinking in pictures” and the importance of embracing all kinds of minds.

Creativity Unleashed:
Overcoming the Unseen Forces that Stand in the Way of Imagination

Jimbo Clark, Creativity and Change Facilitator, innoGreat

Experience thinking like never before! Most of us prefer the comfort of familiar routines, but if we truly want growth on a personal and business level, we must challenge long-held beliefs, and even risk failure and rejection. At the Training 2023 Kickoff and Reception, international creativity catalyst Jimbo Clark will get you to think out of the box (literally!) to unlock creativity, unravel biases, and find breakthrough solutions for life’s puzzling situations. Jimbo will guide you through The BOX Experience, a mindset improvement tool that delivers better results by challenging the status quo and generating new thinking aligned to your future success instead of your past experience — all to get your mind ready for what’s to come at Training 2023!

Dine Around Mixer Event
Monday, February 13, 5:30 pm – 8:30 pm

Want an opportunity to meet, connect and network with fellow attendees? Then join this fun dining event, facilitated by industry veterans. You’ll choose from dining options at area restaurants that meet your budget. Meet your group of dinner participants by 5:30 pm so you can all go to the restaurant together. Note: This is a pay-on-your-own event.

“I enjoyed the opportunity to network with colleagues that I wouldn’t have had the opportunity to meet, as well as learn from some of the most cutting-edge and innovative minds in the training sphere. The keynotes were fantastic, the vendors were awesome. I can’t think of a better investment — I came away with so many ideas and potential solutions to improve our training programs!”

— Lee Broxton, Training Specialist, Research Education, Georgia Institute of Technology
Engaging Virtual Production — LIVE with John Chen!

New and exclusive at Training 2023! Visit the Expo to observe the master of engaging live virtual production — from the inside out and the outside in!

John Chen, the engaging virtual producer who literally wrote the book — Engaging Virtual Meetings — helped Training magazine to successfully pivot and transform TWO of its normally in-person conferences into fully virtual conferences. These weeklong, ALL-LIVE events included interactive keynotes, “Dine Arounds,” breakout sessions with facilitators and attendees on camera, and high levels of interaction and engagement throughout.

What happened behind the scenes? Fast forward to Training 2023 where John will show you! He will recreate his unique production studio in the Expo, complete with his 6-screen set up, proper lighting, green screens, audio board, analog props, and most importantly, his knowledge and experience about how to integrate all these ingredients on the fly to produce more interactive and engaging experiences.

Tap into John’s 35 years of digital engagement experience to help raise the bar with your remote meetings and virtual classrooms. Bonus: When you apply what you’ve learned back at work, you will change learner and attendee experiences for the better, too.

John will go “inside out” when he live streams content from Training 2023 to a remote audience — while “outside in” will include bringing remote content to the Expo, too. John will demonstrate various broadcasting tips and best practices that ensure high levels of engagement. Plus, you’ll get to ask all the questions you want after observing him from the audience, stepping into the booth, or even watching a virtual feed!

Learn more about what works and what doesn’t, such as:
- Preferred tech and equipment and why.
- Aspects of top-tier technical production for live virtual and remote events.
- Planning and pre-show production materials and practices.

Nothing is off limits — so don’t miss this special opportunity to up your own virtual production game!

Test Kitchen

See Tech, Try Tech, Mix It Up!

Ready to add AI, AR, XR, VR, and other emerging technology to your learning content, but want to experience it for yourself first? Do you consider yourself a gadget person? Do you suffer from new tech envy or FOMO?

The solution? Visit the Innovations in Training Test Kitchen in the Expo! (Pro Tip: Look for people wearing chef hats and aprons.) Executive Chef Phylise Banner will be joined by several Master Chefs to help you discover innovative tools, new media, and fresh approaches to integrating technology into your learning.

Talk with our Master Chefs about learning design, pick up “recipes” (quick how-to guides), expert demos, and try out some tech. Test Kitchen mini-sessions will help you cook up innovative, immersive, and engaging learning “bites.” Don’t miss this high-energy, interactive learning experience.
Training 2023 has the suppliers of hardware, software, and product and service solutions that can help you solve your training challenges — now!

Browse top training products and services from our helpful exhibitors and attend demos at the Innovations in Training Test Kitchen.

“Training 2022 was my first training conference and it far exceeded my expectations! It wasn’t just beautiful facilities or great staff — it was the amazing breadth of talented keynotes and engaging presenters on so many topics! I will definitely be back!”

Stacey Wayman, Manager Client Digital Experience/Training, National MI

“I learned so much that, while I was still at the conference, I reached out to my boss and told him we need to come back next year and bring more of our team with us! The amount of information I took away from the conference will keep me busy for the next year.”

Jennifer Preuss, VP Assistant Director of Retail L&D, Rockland Trust Bank

3-DAY CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS
Friday, Feb. 10 to Sunday, Feb. 12
9:00 am – 4:00 pm

P01 Master Instructional Designer Certificate Program
Geoff Bailey, Senior Consultant, Friesen, Kaye and Associates
Discover the keys to creating interactive and engaging training that ensures learner success and true productivity back on the job — whether in the classroom, online, or a combination of both. Take home electronic job aids and a detailed support manual to help you apply what you learned immediately when you are back on the job. You’ll learn to:
- Apply proven techniques for analyzing learner and organizational needs and plan the design and development of training materials to meet those needs.
- Incorporate adult learning principles, a systematic learning process, and a variety of processing methods to maximize retention and increase learner productivity post training back on the job.
- Link the science of the brain to effective instructional design methodologies to maximize training program success.
- Select the right training content and instructional strategy to support performance improvement for the target population, including multi-generational workforce issues.
- Align objectives and tests, and outline strategies to close any performance gaps.
- Create a validation plan that ensures the training design meets the organizational needs.
- Plan a variety of presentation, application, and feedback methods.
- Create questions that enable learning, encourage retention, and test for understanding.
- Promote interactivity in classroom and online designs.
- Strategize design time shortcuts.

ATD has approved this program for 16.5 points.

P02 Training Needs Analysis Certificate Program
Marsha Weisleder, Course Leader/Performance Improvement Coach, Langevin Learning Services
Learn to become a catalyst and apply a collaborative approach to make measurable improvements in your organization. Discover how to thoroughly investigate employee performance to determine which performance problems are training related versus non-training related. As with any problem, there needs to be a viable solution. Learn a step-by-step process to work with your clients, define their performance problem, identify the cause, recommend the appropriate solution, and measure the result of what you have accomplished. You will walk away with a structured performance improvement process, as well as critical people skills to help build your credibility as a performance consultant. You will learn:
- How to manage interactions with others.
- 5 easy steps for managing the consulting process.
- A proven method to identify job performance needs.
- How to apply active listening techniques.
- How to conduct an effective “discovery” meeting.
- How to ask powerful performance-based questions.
- How to handle resistance and challenges from clients.
- How to establish terms of reference with clients.
- 6 methods for collecting data.
- How to determine the 7 major causes of performance gaps.
- 4 participatory analysis techniques.
- How to rate solutions using relevant criteria.
- How to guide clients through a decision-making process.
- How to write a report of findings and recommendations.
- How to maximize your contribution by adopting the most effective role during implementation.
- How to measure the results of performance solutions.

PROJECT: Throughout the workshop, you will have the opportunity to work on a comprehensive case study to practice your problem solving and interpersonal skills. You will work on exercises in teams and receive valuable feedback on your performance.

BONUS: You will receive a manual with 150+ pages filled with tools, tips, guidelines, and best practices. All worksheets, checklists, and forms can be downloaded as templates from your personal My Langevin website. In addition, you will receive an Evaluation of Training handout detailing how to determine the tangible and intangible benefits of your training, and a Training Needs Analysis elearning module that supplements the analysis process. CEUs are available for this certificate program.

PO3  The Master Facilitator Certificate Program

Sardék Love, Master Facilitator and Engagement Expert

As a training professional, have you ever...

- Delivered training that even you would sleep through?
- Asked questions during training only to receive confidence-crushing silence?
- Wondered why participants are constantly distracted, disinterested, and disengaged?

If the answer is yes, you are not alone. A survey of more than 1,500 training professionals revealed the #1 problem trainers experience on the job is a massive lack of participant engagement. When participants are not engaged, it sets off an insidious cycle of disastrous outcomes. Trainers begin to overuse lectures, creating an endless series of "monologues with hostages." Participants start multitasking resulting in a lack of attention and retention. And training teams lose credibility and influence with their stakeholders. How do we overcome these all-too-common challenges? Stop training, start facilitating. In this 3-day transformative experience, you will learn to:

- Apply the Engagement by Design Blueprint to rapidly redesign any course to make it more participant-focused and engaging.
- Use the super-simple Facilitating with Impact! framework to deliver insanely engaging learning experiences for participants.
- Select and practice facilitating training activities that convert content-heavy, time-constrained courses into performance-improving experiential learning.
- Use the high-impact storytelling formula to identify and tell wildly memorable stories that make learning stick.
- Apply the Curious Ask method to effectively address challenging and undesirable participant behaviors.
- Implement the Virtual Training Engagement Road Map to deliver continuously engaging online training for any topic.

PROJECT: Throughout this certificate program, you’ll have the opportunity to immediately apply what you learn to your course(s) as you practice your facilitation skills.

BONUS: You'll receive access to a private online portal containing 30+ training activities that you can immediately use in your training. You'll also receive six months of support and skill development through exclusive access to monthly live group coaching sessions with Master Facilitator Sardék Love.

ATD has approved this program for 16.5 points.

PO4  Adobe Captivate from Design to Development Certificate Program

Kirsten Rourke, CEO, Rourke Training

This three-day program will be a truly hands-on adventure that will help you deepen your Adobe Captivate knowledge and skills for creating better elearning — from creating compelling content to developing better courses. You will:

- Begin with a robust overview of the storyboard process and concepts — including how to do them, why to do them, and tips and tricks to make them into effective tools for designing and crafting your learning content.
- Explore various aspects of design as it relates to crafting effective learning content for your learning population.
- Discover what tools create a more pleasing and effective learner experience — such as color palette, images, fonts and text, placing various elements in your content, video elements, alignment, flow and more.
- Discover the wonders of Quick-Start and Ready-to-Go Slides, as well as how to use templates and establish themes to move your project from design concepts and storyboards to a first draft of your actual course.
- Set up your Captivate project workspace for efficiently managing through the build.
- Learn how to import, resize, transform, and align images.
- Practice how to apply various types of assets, custom animations and interactions, advanced actions, states, and variables to take your design and learner engagement up several levels.
- Preview your course and explore best practices for publishing courses for compliance and accessibility to a learning management system.
- Discover how to bring your content to life to tell an impactful learning story!

BYOD: An WiFi-enabled laptop with the Adobe Creative Cloud account enabled, and Adobe Captivate installed.

PROJECT: Bring ideas for projects you’d like to build during the certificate program.

NOTE: This certificate program is intended for people with at least some instructional design or educator skills. While helpful, previous experience in Captivate is not required.

ATD has approved this program for 16.5 points.

PO5  Become an Articulate 360 Expert Certificate Program

Ron Price, Chief Learning Officer; Brooke Schepker, Chief Design Officer, Yukon Learning

Need to expand your knowledge about the magic of Articulate Storyline 360? Could you use help making branching, layers, triggers, and states work better for you? Want to learn how powerful the recent updates to Articulate Rise 360 are to take your courses to the next level? This is your opportunity to learn all of this — and more. This comprehensive three-day program provides much of what you’ll need to develop compelling elearning modules with Rise and Storyline 360. The focus will be on practical tips and use-case activities to begin applying your newly acquired skills right away. Whether you’re brand new to Rise and Storyline 360, or you are looking to level up your skills with these tools, this certificate program is for you. This program includes one day of everything you’ll need to create compelling, responsive elearning with Articulate Rise 360, and two days of building highly interactive elearning modules with Storyline 360. You will:

- Learn and build complete modules using Rise 360, and then take your course to the next level with implementing creative design solutions by using additional elements from Content Library, Storyline 360, and PowerPoint.
- Apply the basic building blocks of Storyline 360, and then add more advanced features with options to enhance your courses.

NOTE: This certificate program is intended for people with at least some instructional design or educator skills. While helpful, previous experience in Storyline is not required.

PROJECT: Bring ideas for projects you’d like to build during the certificate program.

BONUS: You’ll receive access to a private online portal containing 30+ training activities that you can immediately use in your training. You’ll also receive six months of support and skill development through exclusive access to monthly live group coaching sessions with Master Facilitator Sardék Love.

ATD has approved this program for 16.5 points.

- Experience practical approaches for using conditional triggers and variables to help design complex learning modules without any complex coding or programming language.
- Discover best practices for using Rise and Storyline 360.
- Learn how to build engaging and effective elearning, using the building blocks in a variety of ways — such as quizzing, screen recording, variables, and conditions, which will be explored and practiced throughout.
- Experiment with creative interactions, like dials and sliders, and explore the use of motion paths to engage the learner with meaningful animation designed to change the focal point of a learner for a more dynamic course delivery.
- Learn how to publish your courses.

Regardless of your skill level using Articulate Storyline and Rise 360, you'll discover and develop new skills that will help you tackle your next elearning project with ease!

BYOD: A WiFi-enabled laptop with Articulate 360 and Microsoft PowerPoint installed.

PROJECT: Come with your creativity and energy for 3 days of hands-on course development.

2-DAY CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

Saturday, Feb. 11 to Sunday, Feb. 12

9:00 am – 4:00 pm

P06 Equity-Centered Practices Certificate Program

Robert Beckles, Program Coordinator; Antionette D. Carroll, CEO; Stephen C. Rayfield, Learning and Education Director, Creative Reaction Lab

Want to build more inclusive cultures and address systemic oppression in your organization? Discover how this creative problem solving framework — Equity-Centered Community Design (ECCD) — can be a catalyst to organizational growth and innovative problem solving. If you are responsible for Equity, Diversity and Inclusion training, this program will help you expand your mindset and practices by adding the ground-breaking ECCD process to your toolbox.

You will:

- Learn the steps of the ECCD framework.
- Use an equitable lens to explore how creative problem solving frameworks can be catalysts or barriers.
- Consider how some problem-solving and learning frameworks protect white supremacy tenets as opposed to dismantling them.
- Learn how to establish language that supports equitable and responsive communication.
- Dive deeply into the tenets of traditional design thinking and how it may be an oppressive and inequitable process for solving problems.
- Grapple with real-life scenarios while engaging in problem-solving processes.

You will learn with Antionette D. Carroll and the Creative Reactive Lab team, whose award-winning equity work grew out of the Ferguson Uprising, in an effort to change conditions in her community and involve more people in the solution.

PROJECT: Create a tangible plan to shift power and revolutionize leadership and learning practices in your organization.

ATD has approved this program for 11 points.

P07 Gamification and Game-Based Learning Certificate Program

Monica Cornetti, CEO, and Jonathan Peters, Chief Motivation Officer, Sententia Gamification; Sharon Goza, CEO, Game2Learn

This two-day workshop is dedicated to leveraging the power of gamification and game-based learning for adult education and corporate training. In this highly interactive session, you'll participate in crafting new ideas and exploring the possibilities of how to apply game-like thinking to increase learner engagement and retention, deepen comprehension, and sustain motivation. You will:

- Examine the science and art behind using play to drive engagement.
- Explore and apply the psychology and motivations of player behavior.
- Discover how to do gamification successfully and how to avoid bad gamification.
- Explore reward systems for building loyalty and changing behaviors.
- Learn the basics of game design and explore popular game mechanics.
- Transform a base set of rules and game materials into a new game design that modifies the rules to fit your subject matter.
- Practice a “Fail Fast, Fail Often” development mentality by iterating, playtesting, and receiving feedback from other teams.
- Discover the value of capitalizing on using proven game designs for educational content.

Take advantage of this new evolution in gamification and game-based learning to propel your company forward in the innovative use of gaming mechanics and playful design!

PROJECT: You'll work on your own elearning, ILT, vILT, or hybrid project and learn how to apply the proven gamification framework and game-based learning strategy to help change behaviors and increase meaning, mastery, and autonomy.

NOTE: This program is relevant for gamification practitioners from beginners to pros — those on the frontline of designing, developing, writing, and delivering adult education, corporate training, or HR compliance through instructor-led, elearning, and blended methods.

BONUS: Every participant receives a Design Journal, Pirate Tales Gamification of Learning Treasure Map, and a Deliberate Fun Game Design Card Deck. [And one of your facilitators worked at NASA!]

ATD has approved this program for 11 points.
P08 Managing Training for Maximum Effectiveness Certificate Program

Rita Bailey, Owner, Up to Something

More than ever, organizations are depending on training to prepare future leaders, increase performance, and improve communication in a hybrid environment. Effective training managers are focused on change leadership, high-performing teams, leading with empathy, and mental well-being and empowerment. This program is designed to equip new and existing managers with skills, tools, and best practices to assess, design, coordinate, prioritize, and facilitate training solutions and events that generate impactful results. You will experience detailed discussions, case studies, role plays, self-assessments, and activities that address a wide spectrum of training and development issues. Program topics include:

- Research on changing training trends.
- Building a blueprint plan for strategic alignment.
- How to increase credibility and trust to become the primary source for learning.
- Developing relations with key stakeholders for buy in and support.
- Increasing your business acumen related to legal, financial, compliance, and analytical details.
- How to manage your budget to get the greatest ROI.
- Efficiency strategies for managing people, processes, and systems.
- Using the appropriate assessment tools to diagnose performance problems and opportunities.
- When and how to integrate technology.
- Avoiding five key mistakes that training departments make.
- Managing and developing the training team.
- Understanding when and how to market training.

BONUS: Throughout the program, you will have the opportunity to build your training blueprint, completing key elements of your training strategic plan. Plus, you will be guided by the former head of Southwest Airlines University for People!

ATD has approved this program for 11 points.

“A fabulous event that brings like-minded learning professionals together to share their passion for developing people. I had a wonderful time and can’t wait until next year!”

Vitatherese LoFria, Corporate Leadership Development Specialist, Shaw Industries

P10 Accessible Learning Design Certificate Program

Diane Elkins, Co-Owner, and Amy Morrisey, President, Artisan E-Learning

Is there a big, hidden “IF” at the end of your training offerings? You can take this elearning ... IF you can use a mouse. You’ll learn great things from this PowerPoint deck ... IF you can read aqua text on a white background. You’ll get a lot out of this webinar ... IF you can hear. As organizations look for ways to elevate diversity, equity, and inclusion in their professional development offerings, ability is a big part of the equation. As training professionals, we want to help EVERYONE get better at their jobs. In this program, you’ll learn about barriers that can prevent parts of your audience from accessing your training. More importantly, you’ll learn how to break down those barriers in the classroom and online. Specifically, you’ll learn to remove barriers for:

- Learners who are blind or have low vision, including color blindness.
- Learners who are deaf or hard of hearing, including sign language.
- Learners who have limited mobility, including those who use assistive technology.
- Learners who have limited literacy, including those who read at an advanced level.

Training Magazine Certificates have been pre-approved by the ATD Certification Institute to offer educational programs that can be used towards initial eligibility and recertification of the Certified Professional in Talent Development (CPTD) and Associate Professional in Talent Development (APTD) credentials.

- Learners who are deaf or hard of hearing.
- Learners who may need to/prefer to use a keyboard or other input device rather than a mouse.
- Learners who may not be able to/prefer not to participate in verbal activities.
- Learners who might have a neurological or cognitive condition that influences how they perceive and process information, conditions such as photo-sensitive epilepsy, dyslexia, or autism.

You’ll also learn to navigate the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) to help you make inclusive design choices.

BYOD: A WiFi-enabled laptop with NVDA screen reader installed.

ATD has approved this program for 5.5 points.

P11 Design for Engagement Certificate Program

Saul Carliner, Author, The E-Learning Handbook

Is your elearning content limited by the templates you’re required to use for design? Organizations rely on form-like templates to speed up the design and development of materials and ensure consistency across courses. But the indiscriminate application of templates can lead to empty, dry, and “press next-button” experiences. Burst free and innovate — even with restrictive templates — and transform those boring page turners into engagement getters!

After engaging in design thinking activities to foster an innovation mindset, you will identify places where templates unnecessarily restrict instructional design and development. Then, explore creative ways to work around the restrictions, while still conforming to the guidelines encoded in the template. Having completed this certificate program, you will be able to:

- Describe the benefits of template-based design.
- Identify limitations that make template-based courses less interesting.
- Design learning content that offers consistent experiences promised, yet also manage to surprise your learners.
- Apply design ideas from other disciplines to your elearning project.
- Apply 5-7 different approaches to present engaging learning content, using your template(s).

PROJECT: Bring your learning program(s) you developed in a template, which you will redesign during the certificate program.

BYOD: If desired, a laptop with the authoring program installed so you can directly make changes during the certificate program.

ATD has approved this program for 5.5 points.

“…If you want to hear these words as participants leave your training sessions, this program is for you.

Discover how to integrate fun and impactful activities that involve your participants in experiential learning. In this high-energy program, you will help guide the content and participate in a wide variety of activities that you can take back to your organization and easily incorporate into your training sessions. For 20 years, Roz and Jed have developed, collected, and used more than 300 different activities to help create teachable moments on a wide variety of topics. You will experience and learn:

- The six key factors that create memorable training moments.
- A variety of activities that can be used to open and close your training sessions effectively.
- A wide range of activities that convey your key training messages.
- A collection of energizers and reviewers to incorporate into all your training sessions.
- The importance of the debrief or reflection that creates the teachable moments with your audience.

BONUS: Following the program, you will receive descriptions and instructions for all activities shared throughout the day, including debrief and reflection ideas that you can easily use or customize to meet your training needs and make your training messages stick!

ATD has approved this program for 5.5 points.
